Offers Another Solution

New Opinion Gives County Clerks Until Oct. 30 to Verify Voter Registrations

JEFFERSON CITY, (P)—Atty. Gen. John M. Dalton has offered another solution to the problems surrounding Missouri's new permanent registration system for cities of 10,000 or more.

Under the opinion, county clerks in counties containing such cities have until Oct. 30—or in any case a "reasonable time"—to verify voter registrations.

The problem is more confusing because until the new registration books are complete, the county clerks must retain the old voter registration books that have been in use in some cities since the original registration law became effective in 1947.

The double bookkeeping system is necessary, Dalton said in an earlier opinion, to permit qualified voters to cast ballots in the Oct. 4 referendum election.

The latest opinion was requested by former State Sen. Richard J. Chamier while he was acting prosecuting attorney in Randolph County.

He pointed out that the earlier act required the county clerk to check registration lists by Sept. 11 each year. In this case, that requirement meant the new registration law became effective Aug. 29 while the old law — not repealed entirely — required the county clerk to check the registration lists by Sept. 11.

But the attorney general's opinion held that the law also permits the county clerk to use the U. S. Mails to make a further check after Sept. 1 and even to hire canvassers, if the Circuit Court authorizes such action, and make a complete report by Nov. 1.

In any case, the opinion concluded, "the county clerk shall have under all circumstances a reasonable time to complete his check and verification of the registration lists."

District Meets Will Be Held On New Egg Law

Missouri's new egg law is now in force—the effective date being Aug. 29. Since there are so many new provisions in the law, the State Department of Agriculture and Agricultural Extension Service have scheduled a series of district egg law meetings as follows: Tuesday, Sept. 27, 7:30 p.m., Clinton and Rolla; and Wednesday, Sept. 28, 7:30 p.m., Springfield and Farmington.

Everyone interested in this new law, from processors to consumers, is invited to attend. Representatives from the State Department of Agriculture and Agricultural Extension Service will be present to discuss in detail the provisions in the new law. An opportunity for questions and discussion will be provided and plans made to conduct egg grading and candling schools at a later date for those interested in this type program.

This is an opportunity to get first hand exact information pertaining to Missouri's new egg law. Merle Vaughan, Pettis County agent, said those directly concerned in Pettis County should send as many representatives as possible. It is important to all the people of Pettis County to get the facts and not depend upon rumors and hearsay, he said. There have already been far too many misunderstandings and wrong stories told as to working provisions of this new law.

At least one car will be leaving at 6:30 from the extension office. Anyone interested in a ride can contact County Agent Vaughan before that time.

From Funds to Thermostats--

School Board Handles Wide Range of Problems Tuesday

The Sedalia Board of Education faced problems Tuesday night, at its regular monthly meeting at the Smith-Cotton High School, that ranged all the way from a routine change of bank funds to complicated alterations in heating systems at Horace Mann and Whittier Schools.

The heating problem has been a long-standing one. Several changes have been made at Horace Mann, without success, William F. Brown, board president, said. Charles McNealy, custodial superintendent of the school system, explained to the board that the trouble in both schools is that not enough heat for the gymnasium can be provided. He blamed this on the fact that the thermostats for the entire heating systems in both schools are in the main buildings. The main buildings warm up first and the thermostats then cut off further heat, leaving the gyms cold.

Two Sedalia plumbers, James Watkins and Elwood Thompson, were asked to present remedies and bids to the board. Both, in separate interviews with the board, said the heating systems in each school would have to be divided into at least two zones, one for the main building and another for the gym. Watkins recommended using electrical valves and said the project would cost a total of $1,143. Thompson recommended using bellows-type valves and quoted a total cost of $1,444. The board voted to accept Watkins' low bid, with a written guarantee.

Another piping problem, this one over gas lines at Hubbard School, was described by McNealy. He said that the school has two gas meters, one for the main boiler on a line from the west side and one for the chemistry room, industrial arts shop, home economics department and cafeteria on a line from the south. He said a leak has developed in the south line and that the gas company has informed him that it will not use the south line any more, especially since the line runs through a tight-fitting tunnel that makes any leak even more dangerous.

McNealy said the south line will have to be replaced so that the rooms it serves may be connected with the boiler line. The entire school would then be serviced through one meter. He estimated that the replacement would cost several hundred dollars. The board asked McNealy to secure bids and authorized the board's building committee to use its discretion in accepting one of the bids. Harry Brounger is chairman of the building committee.

Brounger told the board that since the cafeteria arrangement at Broadway School has been changed, there is now no room for storing the school system's maintenance supplies in any one place.

"The equipment is scattered everywhere," he said. "It's really serious."

He then told the board that the old school garage located east of the high school can be enlarged 50 (Please turn to page 4, Column 5)

Truman's Job On Memoirs Now Complete

Two-Volume Project His Chief Enterprise Since Capitol Days

KANSAS CITY (P)—Harry S. Truman, making his debut as an author, is glad his job is done.

Looking back at the task of producing his two-volume memoirs, the former President told a news conference:

"I'm just glad to be through with the job."

As for embarking on any more literary endeavors, Truman said he had nothing in sight, but smiled and added:

"You never can tell what will happen."

Shortly after he came home from the White House in January 1953, Truman announced he was beginning work on his memoirs. That has been his chief enterprise since then.

Truman said he worked on the project from 5:30 a.m. to late at night—White House hours. But he said he had many helpers. His staff fluctuated from five to eight.

And help came from almost everyone connected in a major way with his administration — Cabinet members, special emissaries, generals and admirals. Some came to Kansas City to confer with Truman over various parts of the books.

In addition Truman carried on an extensive correspondence.

But he added: "My memory turned out to be very good."

Asked if he had conferred with Winston Churchill, the British prime minister, regarding incidents in his works, Truman replied in the negative and added: "Churchill never conferred with me on his memoirs, either."

At one point he was asked if there was any part of his memoirs he expected would arouse controversy. Truman again replied in the negative but asked:

"Has anything been said about any office I've held that hasn't been controversial?"

Before he became President, Truman was in turn a county administrative judge here, U. S. Senator and vice-president.

Truman will take time out when his book goes on sale here to autograph the volumes of the first buyers.

Search for Lost Baby Continues

SAN FRANCISCO (P)—Worried officers in three counties searched intensely today for baby Robert Marcus, who was snatched from a hospital crib Monday, presumably by a buxom blonde with a craving for motherhood.

Lt. Donald Scott, chief of San Francisco's general police detail on the case, said it was "very possible" the woman had been seen at San Jose, some 50 miles south of here in Santa Clara County.

But he also pressed the hunt in San Francisco and in Marin County to the north.

Robert, just 3 days old when kidnapped from the nursery at Mt. Zion Hospital, is a son of Dr. and Mrs. Sanford Marcus.

In San Jose, Mrs. Henrietta Guerrero told police she opened her door yesterday morning to a blonde woman who wanted to heat milk for a tiny, screaming baby.

Mrs. Guerrero, who had not heard then of the kidnapping, recalled later that the strange woman generally answered the description furnished by hospital attendants.

Civil Defense Head To Advise Air Chief

JEFFERSON CITY (P)—Marvin W. Smith, state civil defense director, has been appointed a lieutenant colonel to advise the commander of the Missouri Wing of the Civil Air Patrol.

Smith said the purpose is to provide a closer working relationship between the defense agency and the CAP.

Premier Says Turkey Wants to Continue Alliance With Greece

ISTANBUL (P)—Premier Adnan Menderes told U. S. Secretary of State Dulles today Turkey "wants to continue its friendship and alliance" with Greece.

Menderes was replying to appeals which Dulles sent Saturday to the Turkish and Greek premiers. Dulles urged that the two countries, disputing the political future of British-held Cyprus, restore the unity of the North Atlantic Alliance "without delay."

Greece has released no official reply to Dulles.

Mississippi Murder Trial Witness Heard

Uncle Identifies Men Accused Of Murdering Negro

SUMNER, Miss. (P)—Mose Wright pointed a knobby finger at J. W. Milam today and said "there he is" — identifying him as one man who abducted the sharecropper's nephew in the early morning hours Aug. 28.

Then the 64-year-old farmer pointed out 24-year-old Roy Bryant, Milam's half-brother, as the second man who robbed the Wright family from bed at 2 a.m. and took Emmett Louis Till away.

Bryant and Milam are accused of murdering the Chicago Negro boy because he allegedly whistled at Mrs. Bryant, Dist. Atty. Gerald Chatham called Wright as the state's first witness.

Testimony began shortly after Chatham said he had six new witnesses who would place the defendants "with the Negro boy several hours after he was taken from Mose's (Wright's) shack." He also said the witness would place the accused men in the area where Till's body was pulled from the Tallahatchie River.

Chatham said the witnesses have "absolutely newly discovered evidence" but did not elaborate further.

Defense attorney Sidney Carlton quickly moved to cut down Wright's identification of Milam and Bryant in cross-examination. Wright is reportedly the only eye witness—unless the district attorney's surprise witnesses as yet unidentified saw something.

Their evidence will strengthen the state's case, which is mostly circumstantial evidence, said Robert B. Smith III, a special assistant attorney general assigned to the prosecution. He gave no details.

Smith and Dist. Atty. Gerald Chatham will call the state's first witnesses in the trial of 24-year-old Roy Bryant and his 36-year-old half-brother J. W. Milam. They are accused of murdering Emmett Louis Till, a Chicago Negro boy who allegedly whistled at Mrs. Bryant.

Smith refused to say whether testimony of the new witnesses would fill the three-day gap between the time Till was taken from his uncle's home and the time his body was found in the Tallahatchie River.

Chatham got an afternoon halt in the trial yesterday to summon and question the witnesses.

Mrs. Mamie Bradley, the slain boy's mother, created a stir when she entered the courtroom yesterday with her father and two other men.

She came without the official bodyguards she had requested.

Before leaving Chicago she had expressed some fear, but after arriving in Mississippi she said that no one had caused her any trouble.

Gov. Foss Heads Easter Seal Drive--

State Crippled Children's Unit Will Hold Annual Meeting Here

The Missouri State Crippled Children's Society will hold its annual convention in Sedalia at Bothwell Hotel on Oct. 7-9. Preparations for the convention are being made by the Pettis County Crippled Children's Society of which David H. Robinson is chairman and John C. McClosky is Pettis County Easter Seal chairman.

McClosky announces that Joe Foss, governor of South Dakota, Congressional Medal of Honor winner, special advisor to the President, Brig. Gen. Angus and the Marine Corp's top flying ace in World War II, has accepted the chairmanship of the 1956 Easter Seal campaign.

Gov. Foss accepted at a special press conference held at the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago and his chairmanship was ratified by the executive committee of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults as the first such appointment in the organization's 34-year history.

Perhaps more deeply than most people, Gov. Foss realizes what it means to have a crippled child both to parents and the children themselves. Gov. and Mrs. Foss have three children, Cheryl, 11, who was born with a crippling condition; Mary, 8, and Frank, 4, who has now recovered from post polio paralysis.

"I sincerely hope," Gov. Foss stated, "that all of the people of our nation will remember one thing at Easter time—Easter Seals help crippled children."

Gov. Foss' activities will spearhead a movement that will enable the National Society to give direct aid to thousands of children in addition to the 120,000 crippled persons now being helped. The National Society for Crippled Children and Adults is the largest and oldest organization giving direct aid to the crippled of the nation and it is the Missouri Society of which the Pettis County Society is a part that is carrying on the work in this state.

The Air Force let

Billions of dollars

WASHINGTON (P)—The House Appropriations Committee launched an investigation today of what House Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts called a $2,400,000,000 "bonanza contract" between the Air Force and private telephone companies.

The Air Force replied that the contract plans had been fully reported to congressional committees earlier this year, and that Congress has already appropriated "substantial" funds for sites and construction of facilities. It said cancellation of the contract now might make the government liable for a penalty which could reach 222 million dollars.

At issue is a contract for conversion of the present air defense communications system to a "semiautomatic ground environment (Sage)" system. The Air Force contract is with a group of private companies headed by the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. and the Western Electric Co.

The companies would build the communications system and lease it to the Air Force at regular toll charges for a 10-year period. Engineering and construction work already is under way.

Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) of the Appropriations Committee ordered the inquiry after McCormack disclosed a ruling by Comptroller General Joseph Campbell that the contract lacked congressional authorization.

The Air Force confirmed this, but Asst. Secretary Lyle Garlock said Campbell had agreed to reconsider the ruling.

The effect of the ruling by Campbell, the government's chief auditor, is to ban payments under the contract unless Congress specifically approves.

Gen. Lonardi Provisionally New President

Surrender Appears Unconditional; Fate Of Peron Unknown

Bulletin

NEW YORK (P)—A Mutual Broadcasting System correspondent in Buenos Aires reported today that Juan D. Peron "is now in rebel hands."

The correspondent, Jack Comden, said Peron was taken off the Paraguayan gunboat where he took refuge yesterday. He predicted Peron would be tried as a war criminal by the new Argentine government.

BUENOS AIRES (P)—Argentina's rebel forces today won a peace agreement — apparently with unconditional surrender — from the loyalist followers of Juan D. Peron.

The rebels established Maj. Gen. Eduardo Lonardi as provisional president of the nation.

A brief communique did not disclose Peron's fate, but the rebels in their four-day revolt gave as one of their conditions of surrender the handing over of the man who ruled Argentina for a decade. The last authoritative information had him aboard a Paraguayan gunboat in Buenos Aires harbor.

The communique read over the state radio said the two sides had reached "complete accord" and the loyalist forces had "accepted the points stipulated by the rebels."

The rebels had announced before peace negotiations began that they would accept only an unconditional surrender.

Lonardi formerly commanded Argentina's 1st army. Peron retired him in 1951 on suspicion of plotting against the government. Again in 1952, Lonardi was mentioned in a group reported taken prisoner in an alleged plot against the Peron dictatorship.

He is a 59-year-old artilleryman. Gunfire sounded in Buenos Aires only a few hours before the peace was announced. Tank guns blasted apart the main headquarters of the Alianza Nacionalista, Peron's strong-arm alliance. Later, security forces were reported to be occupying an Alianza branch eight blocks from the smoldering headquarters.

At the start of the revolution Gen. Lonardi in a broadcast had identified himself as "the leader of the liberating revolution." He declared Argentines "will not resign themselves to following indefinitely the caprices of a dictator."

As the peace negotiations neared a climax today, the junta used tanks to blast out 400 of 500 heavily armed dihard followers of the ousted Peron who remained aboard a Paraguayan gunboat tied up at the docks here.

The junta, which was headed by Gen. Jose Domingo Molina, broadcast a warning that any violence would be met sternly. The capital city had been tense but generally free of violence since the revolt began last Friday.

The junta broadcast a warning before dawn that armed bands of civilians were roaming the streets "trying to provoke trouble." The government said the army would take "severe measures of repression" against them.

The communique did not identify the bands but they were believed to be dihard supporters of Peron, possibly rallying for an effort to return him to power.

Peron himself was a refugee aboard a 636-ton Paraguayan gunboat—in effect territory of the neighboring republic — at the Buenos Aires docks. The rebels demanded his arrest and ordered their fleet to intercept the gunboat if it tried to run for home.

Guide to Winter Handling—

Special Care of Geraniums Needed for Spring Success

By HENRY FREE
Written for NEA Service

The old-fashioned geranium thrived so well this summer, despite the heat and drought, that many gardeners want to keep them all winter for planting next spring. How to care for them during the next few months is the problem.

Geraniums will flower more or less profusely all winter long indoors, but will not be of much value the following summer.

However, when geraniums are used as summer bedding plants, and the flowers are wanted in the summer, they cannot be expected to bloom much in winter.

Similarly, geraniums which are wanted for winter decoration should never be permitted to bloom in summer.

All flower buds, as soon as they appear, should be nipped out at the base of the little stem and all along, spindly branches nipped to force the strength back into the plants for growth the following winter.

The same holds true for plants desired for summer bloom. They, too, must be deprived of flowers and excess foliage during their period of hibernation.

The plants to be saved should be those which made the best growth and produced the finest blooms during the summer.

Marjorie Sulzer, in her book on house plants, says that geraniums to be saved should be dug up the latter part of September and placed in pots filled with good potting soil. The plants are then cut back one-half and kept near a window in the cellar or in the attic if there is no danger of frost damage during the winter.

Watering consists of giving them just enough moisture so they barely keep growing during the winter. In the spring, watering is increased and the plants brought into more light and heat.

The old method of digging up plants, shaking off soil and hanging them upside down from flower rafters in the basement is suicidal, as air in the modern home is much too warm and dry for success.

This scheme worked well when there was no furnace in the basement and the dirt floor was damp.

Professor Victor Ries, floriculturist at Ohio State University, says the best method is to make cuttings and root them in sand or a prepared mica-like Vermiculite.

The cuttings should be young growth, firm but not woody. Discard that which is either sappy or hard. With geraniums, a stem is in proper condition to make a good cutting if, when bent, it snaps but does not break through entirely, a few of the fibres holding.

Make the cut sharply on the node or point or growth which you can feel as a little bump along the stem. Let each piece be 3 or 4 in. long and contain at least

Tries to Prove He Inherited Money US Agents Say He Earned

DALLAS, Tex. (P)—Dr. Lester P. Higgins' attorneys questioned 22 witnesses yesterday in an effort to back up his claim that his mother left him $43,000 in cash in an old trunk.

The Internal Revenue Service contends the dentist earned the money in 1948 and 1949 and it is subject to income taxes.

Higgins, whose tax trial ended in a hung jury in 1954, says he got the trunk and money in the early summer of 1947 when his mother died. He said his mother put away cash gifts to him as a child and later saved the money he made as a small boy working at odd jobs.

Witnesses testified that some bank deposits Higgins made smelled musty and looked as if they had been stored for some time.

Discuss Mission Program at Meeting Of Auxiliaries

The Intermediate and Junior Girls Auxiliaries of Ottumville Baptist Church met at the church with their counselors Monday afternoon for a special program on state missions.

Eleven girls were present to give information on the individual workers, colleges and institutions provided for by its mission program. To emphasize the locations, a large five-foot map of Missouri was used. A light was turned on at the city when parts were given about the following mission projects: William Jewell College at Liberty; Hannibal-La Grange at Hannibal; Southwest Baptist College at Bolivar; The Childrens Home at Pattonville; The Missouri Baptist Memorial Hospital at St. Louis; and the Home for Aged Baptist at Ironton.

An offering was taken for state missions at the close of the meeting.

California Man Dies of Injuries In Auto Wreck

One person was fatally injured and another seriously hurt in a head-on auto collision in heavy fog early Tuesday morning on Highway 50 about 3.9 miles east of California which demolished both vehicles. The accident occurred about 6:55 a.m.

Ernest Otto Opel, 29, California, driver of one of the cars, was taken to the St. Mary's Hospital in Jefferson City by a Williams ambulance, California, and died of head injuries at 8 a.m. shortly after arrival there. James D. Byrd, 23, St. James, Mo., who was also taken to St. Mary's Hospital by the Williams ambulance, suffered a fractured neck, probable concussion, shock and bruises. Byrd is reported in serious condition.

The crash occurred as Byrd, driving west in a 1951 Chrysler, had reportedly passed a truck and had started around another when he met head-on with a 1953 Plymouth driven by Opel. The cars collided as both apparently veered to the shoulder of the highway.

The body of Opel will be transferred to the Williams Funeral Home in California. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

He is survived by: his wife, Bernice, of the home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Opel, Jamestown, Mo.; four sisters, Mrs. Joe Maier, California, Mrs. Charles Seiserson, Kansas City; Mrs. Henry Meisel and Mrs. Harry Kirschman, Jefferson City; and a brother, Sylvan, US Air Force, stationed in Arizona.

The accident was investigated by State Trooper Harold Priess, California.

Opel was foreman for the Howerton Electric Co., Jefferson City, and was on a job at the new Vaughan Hoffman Press Building there. He was on his way to work at the time of the accident.

The funeral will be at 2 p.m. Thursday at the Lutheran Church in California, with the Rev. F. Reith officiating.

Burial will be in the new city cemetery in California.

The Williams Funeral Home, California, is in charge.

Comedian Pinky Lee Has Fatigue Collapse

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Comedian Pinky Lee, 54, is going to be hospitalized about one week because of the collapse that terminated his coast-to-coast TV show yesterday, but the kids who follow him will see him on film.

For a while the little comic in the checkered coat was thought to have suffered a heart attack when he grasped his throat and called for help. The TV cameras turned away from him and he was led to his dressing room as the studio took over and started a film rolling.

An examination disclosed no apparent heart damage and Lee's physician said he believed the collapse was due to overwork, exhaustion and nervousness.

HE OWNS ALL SPACE, IN DEED—Chicagoan James T. Mangan is a man to reckon with for anyone who plans to clutter up space with satellites and such, and he has a deed to prove it. He is shown, receiving a deed from Chicago Deputy Recorder Nathan F. Butler, left, on Jan. 18, 1949, which gives him possession of Celestia, the "nation of celestial space." Mangan, who has protested to Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson the government's plans for launching a man-made satellite, says that "anyone who launches a satellite without my permission is trespassing." (Left up in the super-rarified atmosphere of outer space are such details as how Mangan is ever going to stake out and claim his celestial holdings.)

Stream Changed To Improve Trout Catches

FRASER, Colo. (AP)—They have changed the course of the Rocky Mountain stream where President Eisenhower fishes here to make it easier to catch trout.

The President and his host, Denver investment banker Aksel Nielsen, stood on the bank of St. Louis Creek yesterday afternoon and helped supervise a bulldozer and a steam shovel in the operation.

The swift-flowing creek, which meanders through Nielsen's ranch, is being tapped to increase the supply of water to Denver, 70 miles to the southeast. The water will be piped over the Continental Divide to the eastern slope.

Murray Snyder, assistant White House press secretary, told newsmen the President and Nielsen—who have been fishing for trout here since 1940—have been planning for years how to alter the course of the stream to improve the catch. They decided to go ahead, Snyder said, when it became apparent that the Denver water diversion project might lower the stream level to such an extent as to spoil the fishing next year.

So they had a new channel cut with the purpose of slowing down the flow, and in doing that created a few deep pools where trout like to lurk.

Lizards Eat Flowers
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Did you ever see a lizard chomping on a mouthful of flowers?

At the Philadelphia Zoo there are two recent reptile arrivals who eat nothing else, making their daily banquet out of their favorite dish, heads of zinnias, and other flowers.

Keeper Edward Endy at first tried giving them ground meat, eggs and insects but the 18-inch long spiny-tailed lizards refused such reptile delicacies.

Then Endy tried lettuce but the fat chunky animals would do no more than politely nibble at the keeper's fare. Finally he came up with heads of zinnias and they have been eating them with gusto ever since.

Rickett Says He Definitely Spied for US

TOKYO (AP)—Walter A. Rickett said today that U.S. naval officers told him "to keep my eyes open" when he first left for Communist China on a Fulbright scholarship.

The 34-year-old ex-Marine language officer told newsmen that officers at Seattle's 13th Naval District headquarters gave him these instructions on the basis of his previous training with the Marine Corps and intelligence.

Rickett arrived in Tokyo today en route home after more than four years in Red Chinese prisons on charges of espionage.

Rickett repeated that he was guilty. When released at Hong Kong last week, he said he had spied for the United States.

"There was no question about it. It was spying in the Chinese Communist dictionary . . . and in my dictionary too," he said.

"I gave political and military information to the American consul (in Peking)."

Rickett added it is his "firm conviction that the present Chinese government has the firm support of the majority of the people. They have done a lot."

Of his own activities and imprisonment, Rickett related:

"I did what I did largely because I thought it was in the interests of the United States."

He added:

"No jail on earth is a happy one . . . No jail is a happy jail."

Rickett said he confessed to espionage activities because "the truth never hurt anybody."

He said he did not see his wife Adele while he was interned. She was arrested as an accessory, then released by Red China last February. She is in Yonkers, N.Y.

U.S. officials said at the time she appeared to be thoroughly brainwashed. She readily admitted she was guilty of spying, and she praised the Communists.

Wants Human Tears For Smog Research

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Calling all weepers.

The UCLA Medical Center wants tears for smog research.

Dr. Robert Brunish announced today a study of the chemical makeup of tears may yield a clue to the eye-irritating factor in smog.

The UCLA scientist says he has plenty of children's tears on hand. They flow profusely for science from his own children and in the children's ward of the UCLA hospital.

But he's short of adult tears, even women's.

Dr. Brunish has a theory that tears shed in pain, sorrow or anger differ from those prompted by onion peeling or smog. He hopes to get plenty of both kinds for comparisons.

Crocodiles need not apply.

Is Held Responsible For Patron's Safety

BOSTON (AP)—A tavern owner is responsible for the safety of a customer who gets in a fight resulting from a television program. Supreme Court Justice Harold P. Williams ruled yesterday. He upheld a lower court award of $3,000 to Pasquale Greco who had called upon a boisterous fellow-patron at Summer Tavern to be quiet during a television program. The man broke Greco's leg in the ensuing battle. The jurist said the tavern owner should have exercised reasonable care for Greco's safety.

Scientist Asks Ike To Reveal A-Bomb Stockpile Size of US

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W.Va. (AP)—A nuclear scientist has called upon President Eisenhower to reveal the size of this nation's atom bomb stockpile in the belief that the revelation "could be a potent force for peace."

Dr. Ralph E. Lapp, director of Nuclear Science Service in Washington and former consultant to the Atomic Energy Commission, said the stockpile already "amounts to several tons of TNT for every inhabitant of our planet."

The world's population is estimated at 2½ billion persons.

Dr. Lapp said the pile is so fantastically large that there is no longer any point in keeping it secret. He spoke yesterday at a convention of the U.S. Tea Assn.

Dr. Lapp described a hydrogen bomb which would produce the same destructive force as 18 million tons of TNT.

Nixon Says Prospects Of Peace Are Best Since World War II

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—Prospects for peace are better than they have been at any time since World War II, but it's no occasion for relaxing vigilance, Vice President Richard Nixon said last night.

He told the International Assn. of Fire Chiefs there are three important factors leading to his conclusion. He cited the military strength of the free world, the potency of atomic weapons which confront a potential aggressor with disaster if his initial attack fails to destroy the ability of his adversary to strike back, and the fact people "desperately want peace."

But he asserted the government is not being lulled into a false sense of security by the recent conciliatory moves of Soviet leaders, adding the United States and the free world "are strong enough to meet and defeat attack by any potential aggressor."

Blind Twin Sisters Claim Land Swindle

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Attorneys are preparing briefs in a case in which blind, 97-year-old twin sisters claim they were swindled out of land. They seek $365,000 damages.

The sisters, Mrs. Inez Garcia Ruiz and Mrs. Aniceta Garcia Barrera, testified through an interpreter yesterday in their suit against a nephew, Benito Barrera of La Rosita.

They claimed he persuaded them in 1936 to sign a deed for 13,156 acres of Starr County land now believed to contain valuable uranium deposits. They said they thought they were signing a permit for erection of a fence on their land.

Barrera denied the charges.

Bright Clothes Fail As Easy Crime Clue

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Sherman Sykes, 60, was robbed of $100 yesterday in his gift shop by a vividly-dressed gunman.

Within minutes Sykes had given police an equally vivid description of the gunman. The robber wore a gray suit, dark blue shirt and a bright, solid red necktie.

It took police no time at all to bring in a man who fitted the description perfectly.

"Oh, no! Not him!" exclaimed Sykes. "He's my best friend."

Police are looking for another guy with a flair for colorful haberdashery.

Religious Exterior Is Proved Misleading

UPLAND, Calif. (AP)—Henry Calvin Yahn, 27, was in the habit of wearing a choir robe and carrying a Bible when he went to church. Yesterday he was arrested on suspicion of burglarizing four churches. Police accused him of taking more than $300, typewriters and movie projectors.

feet to the south, giving an extra 2,000 square feet of space for storage. He estimated the cost at $7,374.

Board member V. A. Siegel expressed doubt that the building could be enlarged for that amount, but Forrest Benner said he believed it could.

Siegel then said, "I think it's a fine plan and I'm for it 100 per cent, but I don't think the money for it should be taken from the general revenue fund. It should come from the proposed bond plan."

Superintendent Heber Hunt was asked by the board to obtain a more accurate idea of the cost of enlarging the present garage.

The board then turned to needed electrical installations and changes in the new Washington School addition, including a heavier feeder line to prevent an overload, outside lights for the outside doors of the cafeteria, lights in the maintenance tunnel around the addition and outlets in the dining room of the cafeteria. This work had already been given emergency approval by the building committee because of time pressure, and the board added final approval. The work will cost $608.20 and is to be done by the Queen City Electric Co., which has a sub-contract.

Supt. Hunt reminded the board that sooner or later it would have to give serious consideration to extra playground space at Washington School since two additions have reduced the size of the present playground area. The matter was referred to the building committee.

Board member Charles "Bud" Hurrst said he had been informed that since the Washington School cafeteria is under alteration, many pupils are having to take their lunches to school in order to avoid long trips home at lunch hour. He suggested that nearby churches be contacted for possible lunchroom arrangements until the cafeteria is completed.

Supt. Hunt said that the work is expected to be completed around Christmas. He said he would contact the churches.

The board was informed by Hunt that the State Highway Patrol and the district inspector for the State Department of Education told him that the bus serving Mark Twain School is overloaded for safety, because not all the children can be seated. Hunt was asked to inquire about the possibility of arranging with a private bus operator to carry the overload.

The board also (1) endorsed the foundation school program referendums 1 and 2; (2) approved hiring another custodian to assist at Broadway School and the stadium; (3) approved the revised salary list because of extra credits earned by teachers during the summer; (4) approved a routine shift of funds to its checking account at the Third National Bank; (5) approved dismissing school Oct. 6-7 instead of Nov. 3-4, so that the teachers may attend the district meeting at Warrensburg rather than the state meeting in St. Louis; and (6) accepted the resignation of George Foster as elementary teacher at Broadway and approved employment of Mrs. Grace Edmondson as an elementary teacher and Mrs. DeLore Renno as a substitute teacher.

Supt. Hunt reported that the recent reduction in Pettis County's assessed valuation from the expected amount meant that the public schools would lose about $10,000 from the original expected sum.

He also told the board that as of the second Monday in the school year, the enrollment in the public schools had increased by only one pupil.

He expressed pride in the good start of another school year, in the new staff members, the maintenance work and business-like spirit throughout the classes. He said the board and all Sedalia can be very proud of their public schools.

US Considers Changing The Draft

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is considering a change in draft regulations aimed at getting younger men into uniform.

The proposed change is prompted by the rising average age of draftees — now up to about 23 — and is coupled with the administration's new military reserve program.

Officials said the proposed changes, designed to be more "lenient" with older draft-age men, are being circulated among interested agencies for review and comment. They said they did not expect early action.

At present, the practice is to draft from the top down — that is, to take the oldest men first in the eligible 18½-26 age group.

However, a selective service official said that as things now stand, the average draftee will be about 25 when he finishes his two-year hitch and moves into the ready reserve. This is only a year under what this official said is the age at which most men reach their peak of military efficiency.

"We want younger men than the 25-year-olds going into that ready reserve," he continued. "We want men who can serve in the ready reserve several years before they reach 26."

Selective service officials said the average age of draftees was about 20 in late 1952 and 1953.

"What we are trying to do is to get younger men into the service," the official explained. "Already some local draft boards are looking at the older men among the registrants more leniently and proposed regulation changes are designed to allow the local boards to be more lenient with the older men."

"It is hoped that local boards will be more lenient in regard to the requirements for deferment on grounds of hardship and essentiality."

"We are trying especially to find a formula to help in the scientific field."

Gets Term Prescribed By Judge Who Died Before Crime's Event

BOSTON (AP)—Anthony Cantilupo was sentenced to prison yesterday — to serve a 2½-to-3-year sentence prescribed by a judge who died weeks ago.

Cantilupo, 34, was convicted of slaying a woman's dress in the subway station. Before imposing Frank E. Smith looked over the man's record.

He found this notation, written by the late Chief Justice John P. Higgins after Cantilupo had been arrested in connection with a similar slaying in 1954:

"If this man is brought back into court or surrendered for any reason, he is to be sentenced to State Prison for 2½ to 3 years."

OMAHA (AP)—The new city directory has an omission. It doesn't list the address of Sheriff Pat Corrigan among the county officers. But Corrigan isn't worried. He said, "Most of the people we do business with know where we are. The problem is in locating them."

Godfrey Finally Gets Into Act at Opening Of Airlines Terminal

NEW YORK (AP)—Arthur Godfrey finally got around to his part in the opening of the new West Side airlines terminal but he was nearly a week late and a mile away from the terminal.

It originally was planned for him to land a helicopter on the roof of the terminal at its opening last week.

The stunt was vetoed by City Marine and Aviation Commissioner Vincent A. G. O'Connor, who said the terminal, on 42nd Street near the Hudson River, was too close to the West Side Highway for safety.

So the helicopter flight was transferred to the roof of Pier 57 farther down the river at 15th Street. After Godfrey brought the aircraft down yesterday he was awarded a scroll from eight airlines praising him for "his contribution to the progress of aviation."

Beware Tampering With Freedoms..

This is Constitution Week, which began September 17 on the 169th anniversary of the signing of the American Constitution.

Scarcely a flag has been unfurled to recognize the event, a ceremony which has met with so much indifference since armed hostilities have ceased. It takes a war to bring out the red, white and blue.

Some of that indifference, which one hopes is only temporary, is blended into the creeping paralysis of violations of the people's constitutional rights such as freedom of religion, press and assembly. This indifference is recognized by the Senate sub-committee led by our Senator Thomas Hennings, Jr., which has started an inquiry into the state of the nation's civil liberties.

There will be a season of attention given to the "lamentable indifference about individual rights," the outset of which at a special session of the committee in connection with Constitution Day brought forth a variety of individual interpretations about abuses.

The stirring principles which have helped to make our country great are not to be smothered under apathy and commonplace infringements. Freedom-loving souls will always become vocal about abuses of the original principles. All political power inheres in the people and through them they grant to government certain powers to be exercised for their welfare. They may withhold other powers deemed inexpedient for the government to exercise.

The wise words of Thomas Jefferson are refreshing to read again this Constitution Week:

"Some men look at Constitutions with sanctimonious reverence and deem them like the Ark of the Covenant, too sacred to be touched. They ascribe to the men of the preceding age a wisdom more than human, and suppose what they did to be beyond amendment. . . . Laws and institutions must go hand in hand with the progress of the human mind. . . . We might as well require a man to wear the coat that fitted him as a boy, as civilized society to remain ever under the regime of their ancestors."

So long as we Americans have the privilege of amending our Constitution to suit the times, as Jefferson suggests, we can hardly be accused of ancestor worship on such occasion as observance of Constitution Week. But we must not tolerate tampering with the precepts of freedom of religion, freedom of speech, and freedom of assembly. People scorning them are inviting slavery and worse.

Vice-President Thomas Riley Marshall once opined: "It's got so it is as easy to amend the Constitution of the United States as it used to be to draw a cork."

Mr. Marshall was indulging in a bit of facetiousness. Actually amendments are hard to come by but usually follow the course suggested by Jefferson, as witness the First Amendment.

The future of America looks bright, always, under our Constitution and its Amendments, which were given birth by the wisdom of creative leaders of political thought and the tolerance of the people themselves who have been fortunate in Divine guidance.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—Arms Shipments Treated As Classified

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Correspondence on arms is continuing between the Egyptian embassy and the U. S. company whose sales slogan is "Implements of War Our Specialty."

Meanwhile, this column has queried the State Department in some detail as to why the American public is not permitted to know what arms are being sold by private brokers to stir up war in the Middle East.

Robert N. Margrave, deputy director of the State Department's office of munitions control, was not very enlightening.

"The last time that information was made available to the public was in 1941," said Margrave. "Within this government those figures are treated as classified."

"What do you mean 'treated' as classified? Are the figures classified or do you just 'treat' them as classified?"

Margrave gave a long and complicated explanation about the necessity of protecting private companies. He finally said, however, that the State Department's office of munitions control reports to Congress and that Congress can publish the figures if it wishes.

"There has been no change in this policy since about 1790," said Margrave. "This government has always regarded any shipment of arms to be fraught with political significance."

"How long has the classification policy been in effect?"

"Since 1935."

"You mean since 1935 the State Department has denied the press access to figures on arms shipments, even though the State Department has the power to control such shipments in a manner approaching intervention in foreign disputes?"

Replied Margrave: "We prefer a positive way of stating it. It has been privileged information since 1935."

NOTE — The suppression of information regarding arms shipments began during the Spanish Civil War in 1935 when shipments were made to revolutionaries seeking to overthrow the Spanish government — namely, Franco. At that

Guest Editorial—

RAYMONDVILLE (Ia.) CHRONICLE: To the Point. There are two onerous chores an editor is called upon to do now and then that upsets an otherwise tranquil nature. One is filling out forms in quadruplicate. The other is completing questionnaires.

Apparently all editors aren't as allergic to questionnaires as we. There's Editor W. L. Schmitt of the Carlinville (Ill.) Macoupin County Enquirer who received a questionnaire from a journalism student at a well known university. Here's how Editor Schmitt answered, "As best I can."

Q. There's lots of talk about a free press. Are the newspapers in this country free?

A. Our's isn't. Our subscription rate is $2.50 in the county and $3 outside the county.

Q. Will TV replace the newspapers in America?

A. I doubt it. Television may oust radio, the gramophone and the stereopticon, but it can't kill the newspapers. Here are some things you can do with newspapers that you can't do with a TV set: Swat flies, line dresser drawers, wrap garbage, help the Scouts with their paper drive, and polish windows. Did you know that a wadded up newspaper makes the best glass polisher there is?

Q. If you had your way, Mr. Editor, what would you lay out as the ideal newspaper?

A. One that had at least four front pages and was made up of 50 per cent pictures, 50 per cent stories and 60 per cent advertising.

Q. Are newspaper employees well paid?

A. There are two schools of thought on that. The publisher thinks they are handsomely paid and the employee has some doubts about it. I don't imagine they'll ever come to complete agreement.

"I Haven't Seen Such a Lovely Day in Three Years"

The World Today—Political Parties Likely to Lean on TV

By DON WHITEHEAD

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democratic and Republican parties very likely will spend a whopping six million dollars between them to carry the 1956 presidential campaign arguments into millions of American homes by television.

Advance estimates indicate television will be the largest single item in the campaign budgets. Each party will spend about double the amount spent in 1952. The money will come from the treasuries of the national committees, state committees and allied citizen groups.

By law, the national committees may collect and spend only three millions each in financing the entire campaign. But each party can sidestep this limitation by having state organizations and citizens' groups pick up the check.

The Republicans already are dickering with the national networks for favorable TV spots next fall, particularly in the last six weeks of the campaign. The best times are the evening hours.

The Democrats say they haven't yet begun negotiations with the net works, but they also will reserve time far in advance of the campaign stretch drive.

Party leaders in 1952 had little or no experience with television as a campaign medium and this lack of experience was expensive. In the heat of the campaign, critical times arise when party leaders consider it worth almost any price to get their story to the people quickly and dramatically. But it's a costly thing to buy TV time on short notice because it means paying a "pre-emption" fee to the producers who gave up the time—in addition to the regular network costs.

Some TV network sources have estimated that in 1952 the Republicans spent more than $250,000 in buying up expensive time on short notice. Such a moment came when Republicans rushed Richard Nixon (now the vice president) to the air waves to explain a campaign fund given to him by a group of private citizens.

The Democrats had their own emergencies but their extra costs weren't as heavy as those of the Republicans. And it is no secret that the Democrats must hoard their money a good deal more carefully than the Republicans.

Both parties face the problem of heavier costs for TV time. In 1952, a half hour on one network coast-to-coast cost about $32,000, according to one source at GOP national headquarters. But with more TV stations in the network, the cost next year will be just about double.

As Sedalia Sees It—Who's Black? Says the Pot; Not Me, Replies the Kettle

By Joseph A. Dear
Democrat-Capitol
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Democrats hope to make time down the glory road next year by exploiting the conflict of interests issue that supposedly springs from the close collaboration between big business and the Eisenhower Administration.

Rep. Emmanuel Celler (D-N.Y.), chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, has fanned this spark with his investigation of WOC's in the Commerce Department. A WOC is a man who serves the government without compensation—from the government, that is. And there are many at the Commerce Department who hold important positions. Their salaries are paid by private industry. Although the previous Administration tolerated this practice, Celler has now raised the conflict of interest question. To whom is the WOC loyal? To the government, or the private industry that pays his salary?

Ironically, the very same question might be asked of Rep. Celler. He is affiliated with the law firm of Weisman, Celler, Quinn, Allan & Spott, of New York. The Benrus Watch Company is an occasional client of this firm, according to official records of the United States Tariff Commission.

In an official communication to the U. S. Embassy in London, dated June 12, 1946, the State Department requested the Embassy to "render appropriate assistance" to Rep. Celler and Ralph Lazrus, President of Benrus. According to the State Department advisory, the Celler and Lazrus journey was prompted by matters of interest to Benrus, "a client of the law firm of which Mr. Celler is a member."

In 1954, Celler criticized the Justice Department for instituting an action against Benrus and other firms. In Switzerland, later the same year, Celler stated the Democrats would persuade or force President Eisenhower to rescind the tariff increase on Swiss watches. And finally, in 1955, Celler led a Democratic delegation to the office of Defense Mobilizer Flemming, to protest the introduction of new bans on importation of jeweled watch movements. (Benrus is an importer of such movements.)

Quite apart from the merits of the tariff squabble, is the question of conflict of interests. Was Rep. Celler serving his constituents in the 15th Congressional District of New York, or his law firm and Benrus, or were their interests identical?

Guards Needed

WHITE SANDS PROVING Ground, N.M. (AP)—Oldtimers in the military shook their heads over how soldiers have changed when they noted a warning recently from Lt. Col. G. W. Harris, provost marshal.

Harris said after a recent payday, military police found "a score of wallets, some open, lying in unguarded places." He added "it behooves all of the men to watch their money."

The afternoon session featured demonstrations of R.A. work by First Church, East Church, Calvary and Hughesville. Special music was by The Rev. Gilbert Hulme pastor of Memorial church, who played several sacred numbers, using as an instrument a saw and violin bow. A solo was given by Eddie Arquitt of the First church.

Marciano-Moore Keyed For Heavyweight Bout Tonight

Odds Favor Defender 19-5; Moore Tensed By Postponement As Ticket Sales Rise

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano, an old hand at postponements, is a heavier favorite than ever for his 15-round title defense against light heavyweight champion Archie Moore in Yankee Stadium tonight.

The odds favoring the all-conquering, 31-year-old Brockton Bomber lengthened to 19-5 after the one-day setback caused by Hurricane Ione's threat. The odds may jump another point or two by the time the contestants climb into the ring.

"No Moore money has showed," said one bookmaker in explaining the rise. "as a betting fight this one has fizzled out like Ione."

Forecasters predicted a fair and cool evening, just about perfect for the battle of champions.

Three other reasons may have influenced the increased swing to Marciano. At the weigh-in ceremony yesterday afternoon, the usually cocky and poised Moore appeared grim and tense while Marciano was his usual self, cool and relaxed.

Then Rocky has been through this agonizing waiting period before. His return bout with Ezzard Charles was postponed twice last September and when they finally got in there, Rocky bombed out old Ez in the eighth round.

Weight is the other factor. The 36-year-old challenger scaled 183, about three pounds more than he had been expected to carry. Rocky tipped the beam at 183½, about a pound more than he had aimed at. There will be no further weigh-in unless the weather kicks up again and forces another postponement until tomorrow.

Usually a postponement hurts a gate but this fight seems almost certain to benefit.

"We refunded about $5,900 by late evening and sold about $25,000," said Harry Markson, Norris' aide. "We had close to $700,000 in before the postponement and I'm confident we'll do at least $750,000 and maybe $800,000."

The bout will be broadcast by ABC at 8:45 p.m., CST. There will be no home television. A closed circuit telecast will be made to 129 theaters.

Records Fall As Nat'l Clubs Hit 13 In Day

NEW YORK (AP)—The homer happy National League, with a one-season record already packed away, now has opened a barrage on individual major league home run marks.

Robin Roberts, Philadelphia's 23-game winner, fell victim to the homer hammering last night at Brooklyn, giving up his 39th and 40th of the season—a record total of home runs off a pitcher. Teammate Murry Dickson held the old mark of 39, set in 1948 with St. Louis.

Willie Mays of New York poked into the picture, too, swatting two in a doubleheader with Pittsburgh for a record-equaling total of seven in six consecutive games. Two other Giants, George Kelly (1924) and Walker Cooper (1947) already shared the mark.

And Monday night, Ernie Banks, Chicago's slugging shortstop, set a record with his fifth grand-slam of the year. Ten players shared the old mark of four. Banks, with 44, set a major league record for shortstops when he walloped his 40th.

Frank Kellert and George Shuba tagged Roberts for the tying and record-setting homers in the second game of a two-night sweep by the Brooklyn Dodgers. The two shots gave the National League champs 201 for the season. Only two clubs, the Giants (who set the team mark with 221 in 1947) and the Dodgers (with 228 in '53) ever have hit 200 or more in the majors.

In the first game, Don Newcombe gave up his 35th homer of the season, a record for a Brooklyn pitcher.

Mays, who tops the majors in homers this year, now has 50. Only six others — Babe Ruth, Jimmy Foxx, Hank Greenberg, Jack Wilson, Ralph Kiner and Johnny Mize — ever have hit so many.

In all, there were 13 homers in the record to 1232. The old major league mark was 1,197, set by the NL in 1953.

WEIGH IN FOR DELAYED FIGHT—World Heavyweight Champion Rocky Marciano, on scales, weighs in at 188 pounds in New York Tuesday for his fight with challenger Archie Moore, right, who tipped scales at 183½. Watching is Julius Helfand, left, New York State Athletic Commission chairman. Bout, originally set for Yankee Stadium Tuesday night, was postponed until Wednesday night by rain. (AP Wirephoto).

The Trouble With Nebraska—

Nebraska Coach Calm In Face Of Some Massive Grid Problems

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Football Coach Bill Glassford remains outwardly calm despite a host of troubles at Nebraska including grumblings from partisan fans, a lack of material and an especially tough game coming up Saturday.

The Cornhuskers surprised most everybody last year by finishing second in the Big Seven Conference and earned a trip to the Orange Bowl where they lost to Duke. Nebraska posted a 6-4 season record.

Prospects this season looked good until several key men were dismissed after a "pantie raid" at the university last spring. The Cornhuskers were dealt another blow when halfback Don Comstock failed to meet classroom requirements.

However, Nebraska was expected to open the season with a victory over lightly regarded Hawaii. Last year at Honolulu, the Huskers handed Hawaii a 50-0 defeat. But Hawaii made the trip to Lincoln last week and stunned the Nebraska fans and team by winning 6-0.

A storm of criticism broke around Glassford. Some fans suggested buying up Glassford's contract. It expires next spring but Glassford has the option to renew for five years if he chooses.

Glassford refused to be drawn out. He said, "They can do what they want, say what they want. I'm interested in the boys on the team. They can get better. You can't give up on the boys because they played one poor game."

Nebraska meets Ohio State, ranked No. 3 in the AP weekly poll and defending Big Ten and Rose Bowl champ at Columbus this week. Glassford says he is not planning "a lot of wholesale changes—just a few to give us added strength."

Glassford also was under strong pressure to step down at the end of the 1953 season but stayed on and the wounds healed.

Elsewhere around the conference, Missouri staged a heavy defensive drill in preparation for its Saturday meeting with Michigan. Kansas State worked out against Iowa offensive formations. Oklahoma stressed pass defense for its opener with North Carolina. Kansas drilled on both offense and defense as it made plans to play Washington State and Iowa State through its toughest work-out of the season with Coach Vince DiFrancesca saying "this is only the beginning." The Cyclones are idle this week.

At Colorado Coach Dal Ward said his players apparently are getting weary of the two-day-a-practice routine and appear dead on their feet. He expressed concern over their condition and warned that Arizona, Saturday's opponent will match Colorado at size.

Cardinals Win Streak Great, But Too Late

Detroit Scores Fifth Straight Win in 7-3 Score Over Athletics

By The Associated Press

The St. Louis Cardinals are in one of their best winning spurts of the season—nine victories in the past 12 games—but it's coming too late to lift them above seventh place.

The Redbirds combined a two-run first-inning home run by Solly Hemus, good pitching by starter Ben Flowers, and a top-drawer relief job by Harvey Haddix for a 2-0 shutout of the Chicago Cubs last night at St. Louis.

Don Blasingame, just up from Omaha and playing his first major league game, opened the game with an infield single. Then Hemus hit his fifth homer of the season.

Flowers, a recent purchase from the Detroit Tigers system, stopped the Cubs until the seventh, when a walk, error and single loaded the bases with none out.

Haddix came in and struck out Walker Cooper, Dee Fondy and Gene Baker to end the threat and give the home fans one of the year's top moments.

Flowers was credited with his first major league victory.

The Detroit Tigers scored five runs off rookie Glen Cox in the first inning and coasted to a 7-3 victory over the Kansas City Athletics yesterday at Detroit.

In scoring their fifth straight victory, the Tigers won their 77th game to assure themselves of a .500 season for the first time since 1950.

The A's scored twice in the fourth as Elmer Valo, Jerry Schypinski, Cletus Boyer and Wilmer Shantz rapped successive singles and pinchhitter Enos Salguiter added a sacrifice fly. Valo doubled in the third A's run in the fifth.

Riley Favorite In Golf Tourney

OKLAHOMA CITY, (AP)—Polly Riley shrugged off a three over par eight on the 16th hole in the qualifying round but headed into the first round today as the favorite in the 25th Women's Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament.

The five-foot solid hitting Texan from Fort Worth finished with a four over par 73 to trail medalist Mary Ann Downey of Baltimore by two strokes but still commanded top attention on the basis of her consistency in major tournaments.

Miss Downey scored her medalist winning round of 76 on nines of 39-37 over the 6,370 yard par 37-37—74 course made difficult by a steady south wind ranging up to 30 miles an hour.

Miss Riley has been a finalist in four of the six previous Trans-Mississippi tournaments in which she has participated. She won the tournament in 1947 and 1948 and was runnerup last year and in 1946—the same year she was co-medalist with Babe Zaharias with a 73.

Three other players were able to crack 80 over the tough Twin Hills Country Club course yesterday and they were in definite contention for the five days of match play ending with Sunday's 46-hole championship match.

In the runnerup spot with a 78 was Mrs. Margaret Willford, a three-time Oklahoma champion. Then came Marjorie Lindsay of Decatur, Ill., the 1950 champion, and Edean Anderson of Ithaca, N.Y., the 1953 winner from Seattle, Wash.

Dow Talks On Football At Optimist Club

Ralph (Stub) Dow, Jr., was the speaker at the Optimist Club of which he is a member, Tuesday noon at the Bothwell Hotel, on his favorite subject, football.

Introduced by Paul Mines, program chairman, as a proud coach, Dow beamed as he stood up and admitted, "I am a proud coach." His Smith-Cotton team won its first game of the season with St. Joseph, 27 to 7.

Telling of the team, Dow said he had 47 boys out for football in the senior high school and about the same number in eighth grade and freshman teams, making around 90 boys for football.

That first team, he pointed out, has size as well as quality. The boys in the line are all over six feet tall and the weight of the entire team averages 175 pounds. If they lose this year, says Dow, they can't say it's because the other team is bigger.

"Smith-Cotton has six coaches," Dow told the Optimist Club, "and it is our aim to make these boys better citizens." He said that they insist on good discipline and that is not an easy job. He went on to say that to make a good team there must be discipline and they expect the boys to behave well when they go places to play so that Smith-Cotton teams will always be welcome anywhere they go. They are taught to play fair and square.

This year's team, he said, is a wonderful team.

For those out-of-town games—there will be five at home and four out of town this year—there is a new school bus. The bus was bought to take care of the children in the outlying districts because the town no longer has a city bus system. There was already a bus for the east side of town, he said, and the new bus is for the west side. It means a great deal getting the teams to other towns, but admits it won't run without gas, as they found out on the trip to St. Joseph when they ran out of gas. It was always hard trying to get cars to take the boys to the games.

"I never go into a game expecting to lose," said Dow, "and I don't accept excuses."

Columbia, Dow thinks, has an advantage he would like for Smith-Cotton to have, that is to be able to see the fine university teams play every game played at home. He said he could see Smith-Cotton boys were helped whenever any of them saw a game by the college teams.

It costs to run a football team, said Dow, and he urged the members of the Optimist Club to get out to the games and help support them. "I'm sorry," he told them, "I can't get to the meetings more often, but your project is boys work—and I'm doing it every day, don't forget it."

The meeting was presided over by Charles Hurt, president, with invocation by the Rev. J. W. Watts. Charles Hanna led the singing with Miss Lillian Fox at the piano.

Frank Mehl announced that the recent ice cream social netted $254 for boys work, and Dr. H. O. Wilbur, chairman of the social, expressed appreciation for the co-operation that was given by all members for the success of the social.

There will be no noon meeting next week but the Ninth Anniversary Party will be held at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Pacific Dining Room.

Peggy Lee Puts Stress On Perfection

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — The living room of Peggy Lee's hilltop home was rocking.

The pianist was pounding out a rhythm; the guitarist and bass fiddle player strummed furiously; the drummer and bongo artist assaulted their instruments. Leaning against the piano and moaning in throaty tones was Peggy herself, dressed plainly in a yellow smock but glamorous with her tightly combed platinum hair.

First she delivered "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot" as it has never been sung before. She followed with a frantic version of "Do I Love You?"

After a half-hour of this, she called a halt for sandwiches and iced tea and collapsed in a chair.

"This is awfully hard work," sighed the singer, who was rehearsing for a date at Las Vegas. "I've got a version of 'Begin the Beguine' in double time that makes my stomach hurt when I'm through. I don't think I can do it every night."

The trouble with Peggy is that she's a perfectionist. She won't go out and sing the same old songs with the same old arrangements. She is constantly seeking new and better renditions.

It's this failure to compromise that marks her whole career and makes her a pensive, disquieted girl. Of her movie career, she said:

"I've had opportunities to do pictures in years past. But they were generally for the fluffy, gay musicals. I'm not against them; some people are great in them. But they're just not for me. I'm not that way. I couldn't do anything I don't believe in."

"There were some lines in 'The Jazz Singer' that absolutely stoned me. I'd come to them, and I couldn't get them out, because I didn't believe in them."

Her more recent film, "Pete Kelly's Blues," was a happier experience. It will probably win her an Academy nomination as supporting actress. She played an alcoholic girl of the '20s who was promoted as a singer by a gangster.

Her goal, she admitted, was creating songs for a living. She has made a good start already, with jive tunes like "Manana" and "It's A Good Day." She also made a hit with her lyrics for Disney's "The Lady and the Tramp."

"I get as much pleasure out of hearing my songs played as I do out of anything else," she remarked.

The $10,000 bill is the largest in American currency.

City Land Office Scandal Ends in 15 Indictments Against 6

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Fifteen indictments against six men have been returned here in a city land office scandal. Conspiracy and felony theft were charged.

Included were three city employees fired shortly after the scandal broke in June. All three were named in other indictments returned July 28.

The true bills returned yesterday brought to 34 the total of indictments since the probe of disreputable city-owned houses and building material started. In all eight men, including former City Treasury Director Roy Floyd, have been named.

The houses and material involved sites being cleared for expressway right of way.

Grand Jury Receives Case About Threats Against Negro Pupil

TAHOCA, Tex. (AP)—A grand jury today was to consider reported threats against a 16-year-old Negro admitted to Tahoka's formerly all-white high school.

The boy, Andrew Nance, recently was elected vice president of the junior class by fellow students. He told officers he was accosted by three Tahoka men who threatened him with "personal harm" if he attended school.

County and district attorneys yesterday called the grand jury into special session over the incident and said in a statement: "The issue before the grand jury will not be desegregation, but squarely whether or not mob violence can be substituted for duly constituted authority."

Negroes Win Suits On Voting Privileges

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP)—Damages amounting to 880 dollars, $219,120 less than the total sought, have been awarded 22 Negroes in a voting rights suit against two members of the Randolph County Board of Registrars.

A Federal Court jury yesterday fixed damages at $40 each for the 22, who had sued the board and charged that the registrars had conspired to deprive them of their right to vote in the Southwest Georgia county.

The verdict directed that the damages be paid equally by Board Chairman R. S. Banks and C. C. Martin, a board member.

Grandma Power Hits Safely For $32,000

NEW YORK (AP)—Grandma Myrtle Power, the baseball sage from Dixie, has kept up her perfect batting average by hitting safely on the $32,000 question.

Drawing on her amazing diamond lore again last night, she identified six major league players who collected 3,000 or more hits in their careers.

Hal March, master of ceremonies on The $64,000 Question CBS television show, gave her Ty Cobb as one of the seven who made that mark and asked her to name the others.

Slowly but without missing a swing, she named them — Cap Anson, Tris Speaker, Honus Wagner, Eddie Collins, Napoleon Lajoie and Paul Waner.

The 70-year-old baseball fan from Buford, Ga., who has been working as a housekeeper, can keep the $32,000 or try for the grand slam $64,000 question next Tuesday night. If she goes to bat and strikes out, she'll get a Cadillac for a crying towel.

When the master of ceremonies told her she had a week to make up her mind, she inquired with a smile: "Can I answer it now?" March threw up his hands. "You almost blew a whole program," he told her.

UN Assembly Ducks Issue Of Red China

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. General Assembly side-tracked for another year the perennial question of seating Red China and prepared today to chart an agenda for the current session.

Overriding demands by Russia's Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov that the Asian Reds get a seat, the Assembly adopted 42-12 a U.S. motion to shelve the question until 1956.

In its opening session yesterday, the 10th Assembly also unanimously elected Chile's Jose Maza as its president.

Molotov made his bid for Peiping 12 minutes after the session began in a mild speech contrasting sharply with the explosive utterances Soviet delegates have made on the issue in previous assemblies.

It was the sixth straight year the Russians have tried to unseat the Chinese Nationalists in favor of the mainland government.

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., who spoke for the United States while Secretary of State Dulles listened, announced he would not debate the issue. But he countered with a brief resolution stating that the Assembly decides not to consider at its 10th session proposals to exclude Nationalist China or to seat the Reds.

British Minister of State Anthony Nutting quickly supported Lodge and said Britain felt, as she did last year, that debate at this stage would do more harm than good.

Indonesia, which abstained last year, voted this time against postponement. Others voting against the U.S. motion were Burma, White Russia, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, India, Norway, Poland, Sweden, the Soviet Ukraine, the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia.

Abstaining were Israel, Afghanistan, Egypt, Saudi Arabia, Syria, and Yemen.

How to Handle Men of Money—

Time-Tested Tips Given On Approaching a Millionaire

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Practically everybody alive today sooner or later will meet a millionaire—and feel worried about it.

It was feared for a time that millionaires would die out in this civilization, that they would go the way of the dodo or the extinct passenger pigeon.

Happily, it hasn't worked out that way. The millionaire class has proved a hardy breed. If millionaires aren't quite multiplying like the rabbit, they are at least increasing faster than the whooping crane.

The average person, told he is going to meet a millionaire for the first time, finds his heart suddenly beating a bit faster.

"How shall I act?" he asks. "What shall I say to him?"

Nervously, he thumbs through his wife's etiquette book. He finds no help there. Oddly, no etiquette writer ever thinks to include a chapter on "The care and Proper Treatment of Millionaires."

This is a strange oversight indeed. The etiquette writers seem to have the idea that you should treat a millionaire just as you would any other social equal. They are on the right track here, but they don't go far enough. Millionaires are even more equal than you or other social equals.

A helpful thing to remember is that, while you are uneasy at the prospect of meeting the millionaire, he may be even more uneasy over meeting you. A millionaire always has the uneasy feeling someone is trying to get at his money, and how does he know you aren't, too? As a matter of fact, he is probably right. Whoever met a millionaire without the wild secret hope he could help the fellow share the burden of his wealth?

Here are a few time-tested tips on how to get along with a millionaire:

1. When you first shake hands with him, avoid staring at his right hand hip pocket. It will only make him more nervous if your eyes go instantly to where you think he keeps his wallet. (You'd be wrong anyway. All veteran millionaires carry their wallet in their inside coat pocket, where they can reach in and pat it gently from time to time.)

2. If you are at a bar, insist on buying the first round of drinks yourself. This will throw him off guard, and he will begin to relax.

3. Talk about harmless topics like politics, sex and the weather. When a millionaire wants to talk about money, he likes to be the one who brings up the subject.

4. Don't make ridiculous remarks like, "Well, after all, money won't buy everything." The millionaire knows you aren't in a position to say whether this is really true or not. He is.

5. If you have an inside tip on a new stock or a horse race, pass it on to him at once. It will please him to know you are interested in seeing him get ahead.

6. Never ask him where is the safest place to keep money. He may be hiding his in the crochets of trees and become suspicious that you are trying to find out his secret.

7. If a millionaire tells you the only road to wealth is by hard work, don't laugh out loud—even though you know he inherited his own riches. Look impressed. He may be right. (If you don't think inheriting money is hard work, just sit down right now and try to inherit some yourself.)

8. It is unwise to ask him how many millions he really has. If he only has one, it will embarrass him. If he has more than one, he won't tell you anyway.

9. Should you number several millionaires among your acquaintanceship, avoid mentioning the fact. Every millionaire likes to feel he is the only millionaire in your life.

10. Many people in the presence of a millionaire feel an overwhelming urge to praise the income tax. Fight down this temptation—or you'll find yourself all alone talking to yourself.

There is one other rule worth remembering: People who really have money usually let it talk for them. If a guy at your dinner table brags he's a millionaire, be sure to count the spoons before he leaves.

Old Courthouse Gets Flag, Young Marines Get Daily Exercise

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Stars and Stripes are flying again atop the old courthouse for the first time in about a year, thanks to the U.S. Marines.

The climbing of stairs 162 feet to the flag pole on the dome was regarded as too much for the elderly custodians of the building.

Lt. Col. John J. Jarvis, commander of the Marine recruiting service in the Federal Building, came to the rescue with a five-day-a-week flag raising detail which started yesterday.

Jarvis said the Marines couldn't sit by while no flag flew over the building, and added that he doesn't want his men to get soft. "Those stairs, 162 feet up, why that's the best obstacle course downtown."

More than 90 per cent of the bulbs for U.S. electric lights are turned out by 14 machines that blow bulbs at the rate of 1,800 a minute.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Modern Science Finally Catches Up With Grandpa

I got put in my place the other night. Dressed in, too. My father-in-law said we were due for bad weather. "Birds are flying low," he reported. "That means a storm."

I started to josh with the old gentleman about being superstitious. Then my nephew Jim, on vacation from college, pipes up. "Granddad's right," he says.

"At least, that's what they say at school," Jim goes on. "The heavy air you get before a storm forces insects down low—so high-flying birds have to swoop along the ground if they want to eat."

From where I sit, there's probably sound reasoning back of most old sayings... back of anything people have learned to believe in. Take the idea of a stitch in time saving nine—sparing rods and spoiling children—of drinking hot milk, or a refreshing glass of beer, at bedtime. You may not hold with any of these beliefs yourself... but it's not smart to give them the "bird."
